

Decoding the Motivations of America's Most Influential Donors

PANELIST BIO: William Jarvis

William Jarvis is a Managing Director, Market Strategy & Delivery Executive with Bank of America Private Bank based in New York. Experienced with investment policy and governance for endowed nonprofit organizations, he is responsible for strategic thought leadership with institutional and private philanthropic clients.

Bill brings 35 years of experience to this role. He joined Bank of America Private Bank (formerly U.S. Trust) in 2017 from Commonfund, where, as the Executive Director of the Commonfund Institute he led that firm's educational, research and professional development activities, serving as Commonfund Institute, Head of Research for over ten years. During the course of his career, he has worked at JP Morgan, Greenwich Associates, and Davis Polk & Wardwell.

Bill holds a B.A. in English Literature from Yale University, a J.D. from the Northwestern University School of Law, and an M.B.A. from the J.L. Kellogg Graduate School of Management.

Bill does not provide legal advice in his role at Bank of America Private Bank